  - Introducing a working definition of High Quality Instruction anchored in Deeper Learning for APS, and disseminated to students, families, and staff.
  - Providing professional learning to support high-level implementation of the new ELA curriculum (elementary) and deeper learning in practice (secondary).
  - Conducting planning about the future of leveling practices at the secondary level, starting with middle school mathematics and 9th grade core content areas.
- 1.2 Student Belonging and Adult Support: APS will improve sense of belonging for staff and students, diminishing gaps between focal and reference groups as measured by climate and culture surveys and qualitative measures such as empathy interviews or focus groups. APS will do this by:

The Arlington Public Schools will partner collaboratively with families in meeting the educational needs of all students; facilitate consistent two-way communication; and provide timely, transparent, relevant, and accessible information to all stakeholders.

- 4.1 Before and After School Care: APS will continue to improve access to programming outside of the regular school day by:
  - Decreasing the number of families on waiting lists for after school care,
  - Providing additional extracurricular opportunities for students,
  - Implementing a district-wide strategy for secondary overnight experiences and travel; and
  - Developing a sustainable plan for providing no- or low-cost services for low-income families through after school scholarships and subsidization of some extracurricular programming.

- 4.2: Welcome Center and Registration: APS will improve the experiences of families across the Arlington Public Schools by:
  - Implementing expanded APS Family University and Forum offerings;
  - Continuing work to bring APS PTOs together for alignment and connection; and
  - Developing partnerships with Town agencies to make resources more visible, available, and accessible for APS Families.
- 4.3: Communication and Partnership: In order to improve families' experiences with district communication, APS will implement new expectations and systems for family-school partnership and communication. APS will do this by:
  - Piloting and then rolling out two-way communication technologies to support communication across platforms and in multiple languages;
  - Developing protocols and templates for communications that are student-facing, family-facing, staff-facing, and community-facing;
  - Streamlining the APS website, calendars, and district communications for ease of use and navigation; and
  - Continuing family empathy interviews to better understand family survey results, measure impact, and inform future actions.

Memo: Addressing Class Size Imbalance and Scheduling Constraints

To: CIAA

From: Principal Rochelle Rubino

Date: Oct. 7, 2024

Subject: Class Size Discrepancies Due to Scheduling Constraints

Dear CIAA,

Please read below for an understanding of the constraints of the middle school schedule that can result in an imbalance of class sizes despite our best efforts to keep them around 21 - 22 students per class.

- Leveled Math Classes: Students are placed in sections based on ability and it creates class size disparities due to the varying number of students at each level. Most students take the high level classes, resulting in class sizes of 24 25. These groupings can impact other classes due to the complexity of scheduling.
- Special Education Class Balance: We must also ensure that our special education inclusion classes maintain the necessary balance of 50% special education students and 50% general education students.
- Shared Teachers: Teachers who are shared across different grades and subjects (primarily our specials/electives teachers, Latin and Mandarin teachers, & our band and orchestra teachers) have fixed time slots, which impacts our ability to distribute students evenly across other classes. This results in uneven class sizes, with some sections being significantly larger or smaller than others.
- Music Program: The specialized scheduling required for music classes limits our flexibility and contributes to larger class sizes during certain periods.

Proposed Actions

To address these imbalances, we will explore the following strategies:

- Reevaluate Leveled Math Groupings: We will look to de-level math classes so all students take Math 7A in seventh grade and Algebra in eighth grade.
- Re-imagine Electives Offerings: We will look at our elective offerings in terms of the way they are scheduled (i.e. quarterly vs. semesterly) and determine whether/how we could create additional classes to help balance numbers during certain periods of the day.

Principal Rochelle Rubino, M. Ed., CAGS

- Eliminate Directed Studies: This will enable us to create additional elective classes throughout the day, which will also help to create more balanced class sizes because elective classes can be offered during additional periods throughout the day.
- Maintain Special Education Ratios: Ensure we meet the 50/50 ratio for special education and general education students.
- All of the above actions may result in additional teacher FTE requests.

Resources/Supports Needed

- Additional teacher FTE requests
- Professional development for teachers on project based learning
- Professional development for math teachers

Sincerely,

Principal Rochelle Rubino
